spreading over the lower delta section between the White river bottom and the Mississippi river.

The distress of persons in the Mississippi delta was noted in an appeal to Gov. Murphy to President Coolidge for federal aid. National guardsmen were on duty at strategic points.

Among the refugees concentrated in a down camp in Arkansas disease spread tonight as malarial fevers sought to choke measles, mumps, and whooping cough and brought vaccines to prevent smallpox and typhoid.

A northwest wind bringing freezing temperatures whipped the half clad fugitives tonight as they crowded together in their scanty shelters.

Battle to Hold Levees.

At other points along the Mississippi squads of men fought to hold the waters and save the beleaguered lands from ruinous devastation.

18 DIE AS BOAT SINKS

Helena, Ark., April 21.—(AP)—Eighteen people were reported drowned when the government launch Pelican was pulled through a levee break at Kinston's landing, fifty miles north of here on the Mississippi river, today.

The boat was said to have been caught in the swirl of water outside the break as it was attempting to deliver refugees from the bank to the steamer Wabash.

It became definitely known here late today that the levee had broken at Kinston, but no communication could be established with that district, which is isolated from a telephone for 15 miles or more. Local Red Cross officials dispatched a boat at 6 o'clock tonight for Kinston, hoping to save others reported to be marooned on levees top there and in immediate peril.

The levee was caving, it was said, and people were crying for aid when the Wabash passed up with hundreds crowded on to a barge and its decks. They were unable to take on additional refugees, according to the reports received here.

Maj. H. K. Monroe, government engineer, was satisfied tonight that the reports of the Pelican's sinking were true. The government steamer Chicago, arriving here shortly before 6 o'clock, was sent back into the Kinston district, while the Red Cross obtained the services of two gas boats.

SIX REFUGEES DROWN

Stuttgart, Ark., April 21.—(AP)—With six reported drowned in the last 24 hours, epidemics breaking out on all sides, and a falling thermometer bringing added suffering to half clad refugees, the Old River section of Arkansas tonight was experiencing the greatest disaster in its history.

A man, his wife, and baby were reported drowned at Clarendon this afternoon when a skiff into which they were loading their household goods capsized in 14 feet of water. A government engineer came into Stuttgart this afternoon and reported that three men were drowned there yesterday when a barge overturned. Ten other occupants of the barge battled their way to shore.

Measles, whooping cough, and mumps have broken out in the flooded area of Bayou Meto, according to refugees, who say that nearly every refugee family has at least one case.

The thermometer is falling fast here and refugees, many of whom have been

$500,000 FIRE RAZES GRAIN ELEVATOR IN FLOOD MENACED CAIRO

Cairo, Ill., April 21.—(Special).—A spectacular $500,000 fire that destroyed the Halliday grain elevator here late today added to the troubles of hundreds of men who are fighting for lives and property in the flood beleaguered city.

The warehouse is located on the Ohio river front, adjoining the levee. Fears were expressed that the intense heat created by the burning structure would cause the concrete flood walls to crack. Streams of water were kept pouring on the wall and thousands of sandbags were held in readiness to hurl into any breach that might be made by the flood.

Hardly any women and children are left in Cairo, male members of their families having sent them to places of safety.

rescued from trees in their night clothes, are suffering.

ST. LOUIS RUSHES AID

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—(AP)—Responding to a frantic appeal from the Red Cross at Little Rock stating hundreds of persons in the vicinity would be drowned unless means were found to convey them to safety, a special Missouri Pacific train left here tonight with eighteen motor boats. The train was given complete right-of-way.

The appeal requested that no expense be spared and that the boats be sent with all possible haste. The plan was for the train to go as close to the scene as possible and then for the boats to be launched under their own power. The train was due to arrive some time tomorrow morning.

The request was for fifty boats, but that number could not be recruited. An operator was sent with each boat, advised to Red Cross headquarters here where that 300 persons were marooned on eight acres of land a short distance south of Little Rock and had little food or shelter.

2,000 Are Marooned

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 21.—(AP)—Approximately 2,000 persons were marooned in Jefferson county, reports to the Daily Graphic indicated tonight. About 500 are stranded at Tucker, where water is four feet deep; 100 at Reynolds, 800 on the free bridge out of the city, and from 150 to 200 in the backwoods beyond the bridge.

High winds and a treacherous current have hampered rescue work. Seventy-five were brought in from the bridge today. No boats have been able to cross the river.

Wind Adds to Peril

Beardstown, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Resigned to a continuation of the flood which has affected this city since last October, Beardstown residents are preparing for the high water, expected to reach here next week, with all speed. The business district is still conducting its affairs, though one eye is kept on the water lapping at the curbstone and one ear is near the telephone.

A high wind is splashing the water against the South Beardstown levee.

CHICAGOANS AID FLOOD REFUGEES AS BOAT PASSES

Feed and Clothe Children, Women and Men.

Where we came to scatter good will we are expressing sympathy instead. For those having relatives or friends in the flooded area we can only report that to give knowledge the loss of life is very little. Inland cities are playing the Good Samaritans in that way that made famous the term "southern hospitality." We saw a sample of it at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Memphis is doing its duty tenfold in caring for the needy.

Mayor Thompson expresses the hope that Chicago does its share. We stop next at Vicksburg, Miss. Aboard the two ships all is well; all around them it is terrible.

Here's Log of Vessel.

Appended is a sketchy log of the voyage of the Cincinnati yesterday: The mayor's party was all aboard and the Cincinnati moved out into the Ohio river and around into the Mississippi.

Within a half hour signs of the flood were visible every minute. Nearing Columbus, Ky., it could be seen that the entire town was under water and only the roofs and chimneys of houses on the Missouri side were above the raging river.

Kentucky Levee Out.

A few miles south and a levee on the Kentucky side was out. So was the sea wall on the western shore. The mighty Mississippi had broken its man made bounds, nature had overcome human opposition and, like youth, was having its fling. Where a month ago the north wind waited till the last minute in an orderly way to the Gulf of Mexico now all was disorder and disaster. In places it seemed that the murky water had fought and forced its way inland five, ten, twenty miles. For twenty miles the Cincinnati steamed southward, the three hundred fifty passengers viewing scenes of desolation.

The ship's friends, Hickman, Ky., fortunately on a hill, but with some river front homes and stores which paid the penalty of their nearness.

Past Hickman, in places there would be a levee, in some only the invisible space of a former levee. Five miles farther the levee was holding. "It's going," some one shouted, and so it was, or, rather, it had gone.

Horse Hides a Raft.

A horse on a raft is noticed, smoke was coming from a nearby chimney. Some one nearby said: "What had become of that horse?"

The Chicagoans could see a woman with baby in arms on a front porch level with the water.

Perhaps a thousand abandoned houses and shacks had been passed between Cairo and Caruthersville, Mo. New Madrid, Mo., had been passed and its ruins sung by Mayor Thompson's friends. What had become of its inhabitants no one knew.

The Cincinnati swung around to a boat landing at Caruthersville and a message was delivered to W. E. Rose, general manager of this steamship line, as follows: "Master of the Steamer Cincinnati: It has been reported to me that the steam at which you passed Hickman, Ky., gravely endangered the levee line just below there. By authority of the secretary of war, you are hereby directed to slow down to at least half speed and keep as far away from the levee as possible."

"MAJ. DONALD H. CONNOLLY, Engineer Corps, First and Second Mississippi Commission Districts."

Accordingly the Cincinnati proceeded at half speed and her passengers were cheered by the knowledge the government through its war department was on the job.

Ten miles and an hour later there was a rush to the west deck of the Cincinnati.

HUSBAND KILLED; HUNT WIFE.

Police were asked in a telegram last night by the Milwaukee authorities to find Mrs. Josephine Proszowski and notify her of the death of her husband, Alois. According to the message Proszowski was killed in an automobile accident several days ago.

SEIZE THREE FOR KIDNAPING GIRL AND BEATING HER

Three men who are alleged to have kidnaped Miss Pauline Wylie, 23 years old, 4544 Sheridan road, from her escort at the Hillside Inn in Palos township early yesterday morning, were arrested by the county highway police and charged with assault.

Miss Wylie was found, dazed, at Roberts road and 33d street several hours after daylight. She said she had been wandering about since 2 a. m. She was taken to the Archer hospital, where it was said she had suffered a severe beating by the men. They had pushed her into an automobile after her escort became intoxicated, the girl asserted.

Those held are Tony Blintrap, owner of the Hillside Inn; Herbert Cronin of Justice Park; and Bernard Milholand, 341 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park. Miss Wylie said there were four in the attacking gang and the other man, known as Salter, is being sought.

Force Truck to Curbing and Rob Driver of $400

Two armed men in an automobile forced a truck to the curb in front of 8100 Warwick avenue yesterday afternoon and compelled the driver, Joseph Mulcare, 4113 Carroll avenue, to surrender $400. The van belonged to a loop department store. The same robbers, it is believed, robbed Harold and Irving Atkins of $300 a short time later in their store at 4304 Elston avenue.

DEMANDS BAN ON ARMOUR HEADS BY TRADE BOARD

Senate Votes Resolution in Grain Co. Scandal.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Springfield, Ill., April 21.—(Special.)—The senate showed its temper against the Chicago Board of Trade today by voting 24 to 11 in favor of a resolution calling upon the board to suspend membership of the officers of the Armour Grain company, who had knowledge of the frauds practiced by the Armour Grain company in the organization of the Grain Marketing company.

These officers were not named in the resolution which was adopted by a vote of 24 to 11. J. Ogden Armour's financial affairs were aired and a particularly strong plea was made to save him this added blow. Farmer antagonism against the tactics that brought about the failure of the great farmer grain cooperative was probably the ruling motive behind the action.

Fraud in Wheat Grading Hinted.
The statement was made during debate that this action was part of a plan to aid a candidate for the presidency. Suggestion was made that the state inspectors responsible for the fraudulent grading of wheat samples be punished. This is the first time this phase of the scandal has been brought out openly. The Curran legislative committee has fought shy of it, fearing that Gov. Small would put veto in the way of such an investigation.

This committee will resume its public sessions in Chicago tomorrow morning. With the two branches of the assembly working in different ways toward the main object of regulating the board, there is likely to be a legislative jam in this matter by the close of the session.

Real Estate Bodies Hit.
In supporting this resolution Senator C. Woods of Chicago announced that he was also going after the heads of real estate corporations to make them responsible for the actions of their employees. Profits for 25 years to come have already been taken out of the Chicago real estate market, he said.

Senator Harold C. Kessinger of Aurora, author of the Armour resolution, named it up for passage this morning. Senator James J. Barbour of Chicago arose at once to oppose it.

"The Board of Trade is a reputable body," he said. "They have rules of conduct for members and have always acted in a dignified, orderly way, frequently suspending men. It seems out of place at this time of tension to indicate by resolution that the board is not going to do its duty. I think we should be hesitant to regulate the affairs of business concerns."

"I understand the officials of the Armour company have resigned from the board, and it is all being attended to properly. This matter is being investigated by a house committee. It seems superfluous, out of taste, for the senate to inject itself into the situation until the board has had an opportunity to apply its rules."

Defends J. Ogden Armour.

"I would like to say a word for J. Ogden Armour, head of that company by inheritance. There was a time when it was popular to indict the peckers, as the representatives of swollen wealth, and for years they faced criminal prosecution. There came a time when this great institution, which had meant so much to Chicago, had all it could do to get by. Mr. Armour, quietly taking his father's place, when adversity came, voluntarily and cheerfully gave up practically all that he had to save that company."

"He has been living away from his home, to save expenses as I take it."

Kindness to Blind Woman Wins Reward in Mrs. Willey's Will

For those who were kind and considerate to her in her blindness, the late Mrs. Emily Preston Willey left generous bequests in her will, filed for probate yesterday. The value of her estate was estimated between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

A quilted coat and an income of $100 a month for the remainder of her life are left to Mrs. Katherine McCarthy, a maid at the Seneca hotel where Mrs. Willey, the widow of Cameron L. Willey, lumberman, resided at the time of her death on April 13.

Miss Riviera Clause, an employee of the Traymore hotel of Atlantic City, is given $1,000, and Mrs. L. S. Kelsey, of the Hotel Trinity of Los Angeles, is to receive $2,000 for faithful service.

Mrs. Wren Watkins and Mrs. Anna Mohler, described in the will as faithful nurses at Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, are bequeathed $2,000 and $1,500, respectively.

A collection of jewelry is divided among relatives receiving bequests. The greater part of the estate is left in trust for three nieces, Mrs. Lavinia Eaton, Mrs. Elizabeth Eaton Dubuy and Mrs. Louise Eaton Haskins of Danville, N. Y. Mrs. Willey was 46 years old.

it, living in hotels. I think a tribute is due that man, who meets adversity, stands by his guns, keeping going that institution which his father created."

Charges Against Inspectors.

Senator Rodney Swift of Libertyville drew attention to the part the state inspectors played. "Just why," he asked, "should we recommend suspension of men, when they have sworn they had no knowledge of the change of samples? Why not wait until the facts are determined? This was under state inspection. This board is also under the department at Washington. It comes with poor grace for us to recommend this when changes in grain were made under state grain inspectors."

"This resolution is only a gesture to let it be known that there is another candidate for president of the United States."

Senator Ed J. Hughes of Chicago, said the resolution could not change the procedure of the board, as they could not act without evidence, and that was impounded until May 10.

ROBBER HIDES IN BOX; IS CARRIED IN; LOOTS PLANT

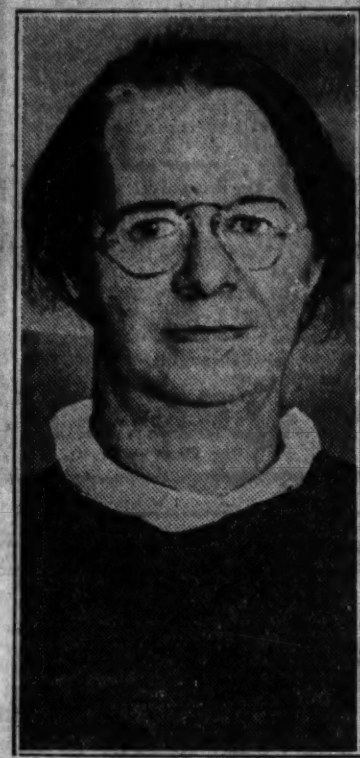

When John Handley of 6404 Ellis avenue decided to rob the Taylor Trunk company at 28 East Randolph street, recently, he went to the shipping platform at closing time and crawled into an empty packing box. After the workers carried him inside and locked up Handley in all the lights and went about selecting the goods he was going to steal as though he was taking inventory. A Pinkerton watchman came along and made him a promise he would lock the door when he went out. Handley carefully kept this promise.

It was not until last night, when he was arrested by Lieut. Michael Lahart and Sergeant John Sudda and H. Golden, that the puzzled trunk company officials learned how their goods disappeared.

Woman Robbed of $1,700 in Jewels and Her Auto

Mrs. Hyman Dikowski, 3216 North Kaystone avenue, was robbed of $15 and jewelry valued at $1,700 early yesterday by four men. The robbery occurred in the vestibule of her home. After seizing her two of the men went to the street and forced Henry Wender, a garage attendant, to surrender the Dikowski automobile to them. They drove away in the car.

BIND AND BOB STORE OWNER.
Nicholas Levin, owner of a dry goods store at 4039 West 26th street, was tied in a rear room of the store yesterday by two robbers, who escaped with $157.

KATHERINE MCCARTHY.

HUGHIE'S PLAYFUL "I'LL KILL YOU" HALTS FREEDOM

A careless "I'll kill you yet," addressed to a detective sergeant yesterday by Hughie McGovern, whom the police regard as "the toughest gangster in the younger set," resulted in Hughie's return to the Grand Crossing station lockup just after being released on bail by Municipal Judge John Richardson.

Sergeant Joseph Jandacek and his detective bureau squad, while touring the south side in line with Chief of Police Michael Hughes' order to rid the city of gunmen, had spotted McGovern driving along, a 45 caliber gun lying on the auto seat beside him. Twenty minutes later Hughie defied a jury trial on a pistol toting charge before Judge Richardson and was released on bail. Then came his headless remark.

HUGHIE MCGOVERN

At the special meeting of the city council, presided over yesterday by Ald. John S. Clark, Ald. John Coughlin introduced a resolution authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee, to be composed of public officials and public spirited citizens, to organize and start a campaign to secure contributions "for the relief of those stricken inhabitants in the Mississippi valley."

Appeal Made by Radio.

The fact that the contributions were not larger was explained last night by Controller Fitzmorris as being due to the fact that the appeals were made over the radio Wednesday night, and in yesterday's papers, so many of the responses are now in the mails.

In the $424 which came to the mayor's office yesterday there were three contributions of $100 each, from the American Development company, the Manz corporation, and the Norris-Ward Coal company.

More Than 52,000 Refugees.

Following is the telegram which the local Red Cross received from William M. Baxter Jr., its official in charge of midwest relief work:

"Latest reports from our workers in several states bordering the Mississippi river, shows total refugees now exceed 52,000. The Red Cross must feed, clothe and shelter at least 40,000 homeless for many weeks. Urges increased effort of your chapter to secure contributions."

CHICAGO SWELLS FUND TO HELP FLOODS' VICTIMS

Mayor and River Voyagers Raise $10,000.

Just about the time the Chicago office of the American Red Cross, 616 South Michigan avenue, was receiving an urgent appeal for funds to care for an estimated $2,000 Mississippi valley flood victims, Chicago, through its city council, stimulated itself to still further activity in the collection of monies for relief work.

The total money at hand last night was approximately $17,000, divided in this way:

The Red Cross, about $1,000.

Mayor Thompson's City of Chicago fund, $5,424, of which $5,000 was donated by Charles V. Barrett in the name of the Republican county central committee. The contributions are being received by City Controller Fitzmorris.

Mayor Thompson's party, now journeying southward, a little over $10,000, of which $1,000 was the mayor's personal contribution. This money later will be divided into the city fund being raised by the mayor.

PLANES CRASH AT RITES FOR DUKE OF YORK; 4 KILLED

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SYDNEY, April 21.—Four airmen were killed at Melbourne yesterday evening while welcoming the Duke and Duchess of York. A number of planes were circling the federal government house when two collided at a height of 300 feet and crashed to the ground. Both aviators and pilots were killed instantly. One plane fell on the garage of the postmaster general's department and burst into flames. The garage was set on fire, six motor trucks destroyed, others were damaged and the plane was completely burned. The duke and duchess were unaware of the disaster until some time later.

STEAL TRUCKLOAD OF FLOUR.

Thieves stole an automobile truck yesterday from Paulina and Madison streets. It contained fifty sacks of sugar and fifty sacks of flour. It was the property of the Chicago Bakery association.

FOUR MEN AND A GIRL HELD IN HOLDUP MURDER

Four men and a girl were held by Englewood police last night in connection with the murder of Frank Novak, bank messenger, who was killed in a pay roll holdup at the Armour Glue works a week ago. Two of the men are convicts escaped from Pontiac reformatory, according to police records, and they and one of the others were identified last night as participants in several holdups and in the attempted killing of Policeman Michael O'Donnell of the auto detail a week ago.

The four men held are John Pelch, 124 West Division street, John and Thomas Gavin of 5702 South May street, and Joseph Heilig of 7813 Harvard avenue. The girl is Katherine Daly of 5550 Emerald avenue.

Policeman O'Donnell came from his bed in St. Luke's hospital to identify the three men as his assailants. They had struck him over the head when he attempted to question them.

SOVIETS SPEND ALMOST MILLION FOR CHINA COUP

Peking Bares Subsidies to Radical Armies.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PEKING, April 21.—Further revelation of documents seized in the raid on the office of the soviet military attaché here show a detailed plan by Moscow for the communists to overthrow Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Cantonese generalissimo, and leader of the moderate wing of the Cantonese, and also heavy financial payments, including salaries. Possibly these affected foreign.

Another document shows the payment for the six months ended March 31 of subsidies totaling $14,000, chiefly to the Christian Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang's armies. There also were subsidies to bandits in inner Mongolia. All this work was part of a plot for a wide-spread communist coup d'état. The budget to the Canton and Hankow governments was not published.

Yanks Occupy Barracks.
In order to insure the protection of the legation quarters, an armed guard, composed of men from the five powers led by Maj. Charles F. B. Price, who is attached to the American legation at Peking, occupied the barracks at the soviet embassy at noon today, following a conference of the ministers. The Chinese police still were patrolling the barracks tonight. The American marines had to scale the wall with ladders, then force the gate and barricade for the entry of the guard, which will remain indefinitely. The Chinese police had agreed to the entry of the foreign guard, but owing to a mixup in instructions did not open the gates when the foreign troops were ready to enter the grounds.

FINANCE CRISIS IN CHINA

BY JOHN POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, China, April 21.—Although not directly connected with the Japanese financial crisis, China also is threatened with a widespread financial trouble, due to the political situation and general business paralysis. The Hankow (Cantonese) government has declared a financial moratorium, refusing to permit the banks to issue specie. It is trying to force the acceptance of the new Kuomintang Central bank notes. It is reported that there are more than $40,000,000 in notes in circulation in the Hankow district without sufficient specie to back them.

The Shanghai Bankers' association today issued a statement charging the Hankow government with communistic activities because of this bank note flood, and decided to refuse further payments of silver to Hankow.

Protect Chinese Banks.
The immediate cause of the Hankow crisis was due to the refusal of Shanghai and Canton banks to remit silver to Hankow. Today Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Cantonese generalissimo, and the military authorities of Kiangsu, Anhwei, Chekiang, Fukien, and Kwangtung provinces extended full protection to the Chinese banks in these areas. Chiang appointed as finance minister of the Nanking Cantonese faction's government Kuo Ying-seng, formerly the Kwangtung provisional treasurer.

With the exception of the closure of the Japanese Bank of Taiwan the British and other foreign banks are standing the strain, but are refusing further credit extensions, due to the political uncertainty.

Chiang today offered the post of for-sign minister in the Nanking government to Dr. G. C. Wu, son of the late Wu Tingfang, former minister to Washington. Dr. Wu is a prominent Kuomintangist and former mayor of Canton, but owing to his conservatism he was forced to relinquish this post two years ago. Dr. Wu has not yet indicated whether he will accept the post.

He is a graduate of the public schools of Washington, D. C., and Atlantic City, N. J., and holds a degree of LL.D. in London university. He is 40 years of age and formerly served as member of the Peking parliament, prior to joining the Canton revolutionary government under Dr. Sun Yat-sen, first provincial president of China.

War of Words Continues.
The break between the Hankow and Nanking nationalist factions is still in the verbal stage. The Hankow adherents charge Gen. Chiang with being ambitious to start a new military regime. They say he is trying to camouflage the situation by labeling the Hankow faction holobevik. One prominent Hankow adherent told Tsa Tsien today that the fight between Hankow and Nanking really is the old Chinese issue of militarist vs. civil government and that the whole nationalist progress must stop until the issue is settled.

The military situation is quiet, except for a long range artillery duel between Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's and Gen. Chang Chung-chang's forces across the Yangtze river between Nanking and Pukow. Gen. Chiang is reported to have ordered 10,000 men to attack the northern forces at Yangchow.

A Danish woman shopper is reported to have been assaulted in the native city of Shanghai by soldiers who struck her with rifle butts, but the consul refused to disclose the details.

Report Red Adviser Arrested.

French Follow Other Powers.

PARIS, April 21.—Qual d'Orsay today instructed M. de Martel, French minister to Peking, to agree to whatever policy Great Britain, the United States, Italy and Japan decide to follow with Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister on the Nanking intrigues. This is significant, inasmuch as it is believed here, although apparently erroneously, that the powers would decide to take energetic measures.

Send Plea to Coolidge.

New York, April 21.—[Special.]—Twenty-eight American missionaries and educators who have recently been in China today addressed an open letter to President Coolidge urging that the United States act independently of other powers and accept the nationalist (Cantonese) offer of a joint commission of inquiry at Nanking as the only way of avoiding intervention.

The military and naval cooperation of the United States with other powers, the cooperation defense policy at Shanghai, and the "identical" notes presented to the nationalist government are leading "automatically in the direction of intervention," the letter warns.

Among the signatories of the letter, which was made public by the American committee for justice to China, are John Dewey, professor in the Chinese national universities; Paul Monroe, director of the school of education of the teachers' college and chairman of the board of Shantung Christian college and Peking Union Medical college; Arthur Hays Sulzberger, religious education secretary of the Chinese Y. M. C. A.; Edward A. Hume, president of Yale in China; Harry Emerson Fosdick, who has lectured in China; Daniel Culp, professor of sociology at the Teachers' college and author of Village Life in South China, and Nathaniel Pfeiffer, journalist.

Get Back Your Strength Quick After Heavy Cold or Grippe

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of ever being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, run-down, tired-out people is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of the best health building vitamins.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

That's why millions of people are turning to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in vitamins and no oily taste.

To people who are exhausted or weary—who have no appetite—who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy or the endurance needed to do their work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used, get your money back.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, April 21.—[Special.]—A defendant Ruth Snyder with a cleft in her firm chin sat behind her former husband, Jack Gray, the comet salesman, at the fourth session of their trial for the murder of her husband, Albert, today and sought to charm a half-second jury with a new spring hat, last second in four days.

Through heavy lidded eyes she saw her husband after the parade before her, but she never seemed to miss a detail. Three were chosen today and new there are seven in the box in Queens county courtroom.
Others in the courtroom grew indifferent. The attorneys themselves seemed mildly bored. But Ruth Synder leaned forward tensely, her eyes glazed leaving the face of the man being questioned. After each question she turned to confer with her attorneys, sometimes with a shadow of fear creeping over her face. Her cheeks blanch and hands moving nervously, she would shake her head, and another peremptory challenge would be exhausted.

Smiles for the Jurors.
At other times, with a quick, bird-like movement, she would rest her white hand on her attorney's arm and nod her acquiescence. "I like that one,"
she would whisper, her icy blue eyes arrowing to a slit but flashing open a moment later to flutter in the face of the newly selected juror.

A sneer from his former "married sweetheart" sent a flood of crimson to Gray's cheeks at the opening of the afternoon session. She met the rapidly willing cabaret-loving philanderer, whom she says she fears with all her soul, in a jan in front of the jury box as they were returning to their seats at the counsel table. They brushed against each other and for a fleeting second stood face to face.
Ruth Snyder's lips curled in a sneer.
Gray dropped his eyes and a wave of red mounted from his collar to the very black hair line on his forehead.
Ruth Snyder was saving her smiles for the Jurors.

Marked Contrast in Defendants.
The man who, she swears, forced her to be an unwilling participant in the whacking to death of her husband, and who tied the picture wire about his throat and poured chloroform over his face, moved slowly to his seat, a pained look overshadowing his face.
The widow in black glided confidently to her chair, the confidence almost flaunted in the assured tilt of her nose and chin, the firm, straight line of her lips and her absolute indifference to all the searching eyes.
She took off her coat and patted into it a little pleaded frill about her throat. She was ready to help select another juror.

One of the three jurors selected today bears the name of Schneider. That was the way Albert Snyder spelled his name before he met the pretty steno-rapher and carried her out to Queens village to live in a rose covered cottage, pretty outside and sordid within.

She did not like the German spelling.
The prosecutor will tell Juror Schnelder of this when five more men have joined him to sit in judgment on the pair accused of slaying the home-loving art editor of Motor Boating Magazine.

Seek Women Friends of Gray.

While the hunt for jurors was going on in the humid courtroom detectives for the state were out searching for two former sweethearts of Gray. The two women whose identity the state is anxious to learn were said to have been brought here from Buffalo to aid Ruth Snyder's defense.

Gray, though, is uninterested in this. He has insisted ever since the morning he sobbed out his confession that Ruth Snyder dominated his life and left no place for other loves. He was her slave, he swears, and it was her pledge to go away with him that made him so willing to do her bidding.

Meanwhile Gray's defenders are quietly waiting to see if the two women are brought into the case. It was said that if they enter, then the eighteen men whose names appeared in Ruth Snyder's little red covered date book will have to climb into the witness chair. Men in all walks of life are said to be listed in the very private diary, which her trustful husband never saw, and their names have been carefully guarded from the public by state and defense lawyers.

Now She Weeps.

In addition to her new hat and her fresh pressed clothes, Ruth Snyder drew on her hidden resources to put over her sex appeal today. She wept.
The tears brimmed over and were dabbed away by an ever so dainty handkerchief worn in her sleeve. Her strong, dominating chin quivered, for some one—her attorney—had shown her a letter from her mother. It read:
"My dear little Ruth: I will come to you as soon as the lawyers will let me. I want to see you so much."
The trial may speed up. Justice
Sudder says the jury must be completed tomorrow, or he will hold court all night.

Judge Jonas Discloses Bondsman Tricks.

While a corps of detectives yesterday served warrants charging conspiracy, perjury and contempt of court against 39 professional bondsmen, Municipal Judge Edgar A. Jonas, recently assigned by Chief Justice Harry Olson to head the new bail court, called attention to one particular case of alleged fraud in bail bonds.

Gustavo Di Nordi, a dealer in second hand lumber, is the defendant in the case outlined by Judge Jonas. Di Nordi must appear before the court within five days on a contempt citation resulting from an investigation of Municipal court records by Judge Jonas and Assistant State's Attorney F. E. Sharp.

Bonds Total $65,000.

According to the records, Di Nordi since September, 1926, has furnished bail totaling $65,000, freeing ten defendants held on twelve charges. The amounts of the individual bonds ranged all the way from $1,000 to $15,000.

"In 1917," said Sharp, "Di Nordi bought a piece of property at 1433-41 Elbert avenue, paying $6,000 for it. Later he bought another plot at 1506 Edgmont avenue for $7,000.

"Upon the strength of those two little plots, costing him $13,000, this man signed bonds to the amount of $65,000 in behalf of nine different men and a woman. The woman, Catherine Adams, was charged with confidence game and the men with about every species of crime in the calendar, ranging from larceny and burglary to conspiracy, extortion, and robbery with a gun."

Makes Perjury Charge.

The records show, Sharp said, that Di Nordi succeeded in freeing prisoners on seven occasions before Municipal Judge William R. Fetsner, twice before Judge William L. Morgan, and once each before Judges Francis Borrell, Samuel H. Trude, and Alf Eberhardt.

"Time and again Di Nordi swore his total worth to be $40,000 and even at times as much as $50,000, but inquiry has proven him to be worth only $13,000 at the most," Sharp says the records show.

"On at least four occasions Di Nordi swore no forfeitures existed against property, but he should have known that such forfeitures did exist amounting to from $1,000 to more than $15,000."

Another bondsmen cited on a contempt charge is James Navallo, 1214 West Florin street. He posted bonds to six men in charges of larceny, larceny and con game, totaling $18,000, and all six forfeited their bonds. It is charged Navallo never owned the property which he scheduled, though he swore variously that he had purchased it for $30,000, $24,000 and $25,000 and that it yielded him $200 monthly rentals.

Mrs. Ethel Cochran, 27 years old, 3561 Southport avenue, was fatally injured last night when she was knocked down by a speeding automobile while trying to cross Western avenue at Granville avenue. She suffered a fracture of her skull and died a short time later at the Swedish Covenant hospital.

Carl Maurer, 1262 Jarvis avenue, driver of the automobile, was taken into custody by the Summerdale police. The death raised the 1927 auto toll in Cook county to 255.

All civil service lists posted under the Dever regime were ordered temporarily suspended yesterday by the new Thompson city civil service commission. The order will prevent a large number of Democrats, holding temporary jobs from keeping them permanently. FLORENCE STOKES DEFENDS HERSELF AT MURDER TRIAL

Tells of Fight Over Gun
Case to Jury Today.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

Florence Stokes, who began life in an orphanage and doesn't want to end it in a jail, took the stand yesterday in Judge William V. Brothers' court to sketch, with hushed hesitancy, the details of a now too wholesome love affair with James Glenon, for whose murder she is on trial.

She met Glenon, a street car conductor, in October, 1926. Often after that, she said, she went with him to quiet places, and dark, there to grant his requests. And then, on the evening of the 23d of last February, at the conclusion of one of these trysts, staged this time in the rearway to the rear of her boarding house at 650 South Green street, when she asked him if "this isn't going to mean anything," he sneered and swore an emphatic no.

She Youth Gave Her Gun. "And so," said Florence, who is 24 but looks much younger because she is so slight and weighs only about 90 pounds, "I told him I'd walk east, and he gave me a gun and said for me to try that, 'cause it was easier."

"I put the gun to my head, but he grabbed it away. 'Say, can't you take a joke?' he said to me. And I see, 'no, I can't, not when it means you ain't gonna marry me, and that he man'll want me, after all this.'"

At this point in her testimony the girl went to the basic part of her defense—the alleged trouble between her and her lover for the possession of the gun. During the battle the girl claims that Glenon pushed her head toward the cement pavement and smashed her forehead into the stone wall.

Shows Fear to Jurors. "Have you still a scar from that wound?" asked Attorney William Scott Stewart, who, with Attorney Hector Brundage, represents the Stokes girl.

She nodded, and at her lawyer's behest took off the close fitting blue hat, pushed back her red hair, and walked slowly past the jury box that the twelve men who, some time this afternoon, will begin deliberation on her case might view the scar.

"He tried to get my head down," continuing her story, "and I tried to get away from him. I tried to bite his hand. He swore a lot and kept pushing me against the wall. The gun was on the pavement between us, and as he bent my head I grabbed the gun. Then I fired. What did I fire for? I—I don't know."

TELLS STORY

FLORENCE STOKES.

Earlier in the day Assistant State's Attorney John Holman and Samuel Hoffman, in charge of the prosecution, had put on a sister and three brothers of the dead man to testify that James Glenon never carried or owned a revolver. And the state had put on the stand two policemen who told of having found a box of cartridges for a .32 caliber gun, a brush for cleaning a gun, and some penciled instructions, all about the proper way to manage an automatic, in Florence's bureau drawer.

But the girl gave her explanation of the triple coincidence. Once, many months ago, she explained, Glenon, hearing her say she was afraid, gave her a gun and a box of cartridges. She handed the gun right back, because she didn't want it, but forgot to return the cartridges. As for the written instructions, Glenon told her a tale, gleaned from the newspapers, of a bootlegger who was killed by another bootlegger, all because his gun stuck.

The brush, she insisted, came from her place of employment. There will be a few rebuttal witnesses this morning, then arguments, and the verdict, perhaps, by this evening.

DEAN SUFFERS BREAKDOWN IN "PEEPER" CASE

Lafayette, Ind., April 21.—(Special.)—While Purdue university authorities have taken no action in the case of Dean McCluskey, director of educational reference, who is facing trial on a charge of violating the Indiana "Peeping Tom" act, the accused professor was not at his post of duty today, and it was announced that he had suffered a nervous breakdown and had been taken to a hospital. Dean McCluskey, after his arrest, insisted that he was a victim of circumstances when Purdue students caught him running from the veranda of the home of Mrs. H. C. Mills shortly before midnight Tuesday night. Prof. McCluskey has a wife and two children.

The "Peeping Tom" charges against McCluskey are to be pressed, according to Prosecutor Mark L. Thompson, when the case comes up for trial April 25.

U.S. LIQUOR BILL IN ONTARIO PUT AT $1,000,000

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TORONTO, Ont., April 21.—Ontario expects to garner approximately one million American dollars this summer and fall from liquor sales. This was indicated today in the printing of specifications covering the preparation of temporary and permanent liquor purchase permits which the government will issue in connection with the new government control policy. After the United Church press repudiated the printing contract, the administration re-let it, and it calls for 250,000 temporary permits, which will be supplied to American visitors, and 500,000 permanent permits, which will be issued to Ontario citizens. The permits are $5 a throw, permanent and temporary.

Dismissed; Judge
Raps Newspapers.

JAMES A. REED.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—[Special.]—Senator James A. Reed was taken to the Henry Ford hospital last night "for a thorough examination."

Richard J. Higgins of Kansas City, his law partner, said he did not know how long Senator Reed would remain at the hospital. He added the senator was able to walk from his room in the Hotel Statler to the ambulance. Senator Reed, who had been cross-examined by Mr. Sapiro for three weeks, was taken ill with indigestion last Monday while returning from a week-end trip to Washington.

Henry Ford's recovery from injuries suffered March 27, when his coupe plunged down a 25 foot embankment and struck a tree, has been slower than anticipated, but during the last few days he has shown marked improvement, Ford Motor company officials said today.

For the last week the manufacturer's injured back has been reinforced by a plaster cast.

Woman Juror Exonerated.

Before discharging the jury, Judge Raymond, in a formal opinion, said that while the juror might have been guilty of indiscretions and improper conduct, reports of department of justice investigations had created grave doubts in his mind "that this juror intentionally participated in any bribery attempt to bribe."

In view of the "deplorable situation," however, Judge Raymond said he had no other alternative than to exonerate the juror and dismiss the jury.

An empty treasury may result in postponement now of the retrial until July. Jury funds are about exhausted. Judge said he would bear half the expense of calling such a panel. In the event it becomes financially or otherwise impossible to continue with the case, the presumption is that the case will go over to July at least.

Attorney Assails Ford.

The affidavit charged that Ford deposes heard a man named "Kid" Miller talking to Cora Hoffman, the wife of the Ford counsel, on several occasions and on one occasion said to her that if she would go to lunch with him it might mean thousands of dollars.

Gallagher, with a bitter laugh, retorted at length to the particular charge, which insinuated that "Kid" Miller was a Sapiro agent acting as a liaison officer between his client and Mrs. Hoffman in some act of bribery.

Long prior to the commencement of the trial, read an affidavit filed by Gallagher, "this deponent ingated the methods employed by defendant Ford in litigation in which he had an interest. Deponent learned that the agents of said Ford made a practice, in such proceedings, of tapping telephone wires, wiring the private rooms of principals, and even the chambers of judges, examining sealed mail, examining private baggage, engaging merchants in the vicinity of jurors' homes to spread favorable propaganda.

"I don't think," said Gallagher, "that any plaintiff in history ever faced quite such obstacles as Sapiro has in this case."

M'ADOO DEMURS AT LEADING 1928 FORLORN HOPE

New York, April 21.—[Special.]—William G. McAdoo has refused to yield to the pleas of his ardent dry supporters that he again declare himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, and it is now doubtful that he will enter the 1928 convention as a contestant.

After two days of discussion of the situation Mr. McAdoo has left his former backers wholly in doubt as to his political plans. There have been extended conferences during Mr. McAdoo's stay this week.

The net result of these talks is that McAdoo himself and many of his closest political friends appear to regard the Democratic situation as so "utterly hopeless" that they doubt whether it is worth while for him to seek the nomination, according to reports from the conferees.

Showing signs of bitterness which cannot be appeased, the McAdoo men go so far as to say that if Smith is nominated they can foresee a dry revolt from the Democracy which will wreck the party for years to come and perhaps lead to the formation of a new party, with the west and south as its constituent parts.

IDEAS and IDEALS

For years the name of I. Miller has been impressed on the consciousness of Feminine America as standing for dainty footwear which foretells the vogue.

I. Miller succeeded where less talented men would have failed—succeeded in transforming from fancy into fact his vision of achievements far greater than merely making good shoes.

In the very beginning I. Miller realized that the making of good shoes had been accomplished through the mechanical genius at the disposal of all shoe factories. His goal was to add to shoes already good a subtle difference in appearance—a certain distinction which would ever stamp them as supreme in the world of ultra fashion and refinement.

To this end I. Miller spared no labor or expense. The origination of ideas is his ideal. And the I. Miller business is founded on ideas—new and original style ideas skillfully and artistically applied to shoes for fashionable feminine feet.

So it is that correctly attired women of America's smartest circles have demonstrated a consistent, marked preference for shoes by I. Miller.

ALDERMEN SHOW ENTHUSIASM FOR CONVENTION HALL

Kaindl Pleads for Its Speedy Completion.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Edward J. Kaindl, chairman of the committee on railway terminals, urged an idea on the city council yesterday with reference to a convention hall which appealed to the aldermen. He fathered a resolution "tendering the good offices, aid and assistance of the city council to those who have taken the lead in this matter and offering such pledges as will promote the progress of the project and hasten its materialization."

Because the meeting had been called to consider food relief alone, the Kaindl resolution was declared out of order, but his colleagues indicated such unusual interest that it seems certain he will get action by the council at its next regular meeting on May 2.

Vision Held Only Nine Months.
"The limit of clear vision by the audience should alone determine the capacity of the hall," asserted Kaindl. "The time has passed when the range of the human voice decides how many rows of seats shall be put in a convention hall. It has been determined that a human voice can not reach many more than 12,000, and it took an exceptional voice to do that. That is the reason the so-called large halls of the country have a seating capacity of about 12,000."

But the new Madison Square Garden of New York has 17,000 seats and Atlantic City is constructing an auditorium that will have a capacity of 25,000.

Loud Speaker Is Solution.
"The application of the loud speaker and the amplifier to a convention hall makes an area seating 60,000 entirely practicable. If 100,000 in Soldiers field can follow an intricate football game, then 60,000 can see a speaker on a rostrum in a public hall."

"The next question is where to place such a hall. It should have ample transportation and railroad facilities and be conveniently close to the hotels, theaters, shops and other attractions. Such a location in my opinion is the south side railroad terminal area which will be developed following the straightening of the south branch of the river."

Urges Immediate Action.
"A convention hall above the railroad tracks would permit of a parking space for automobiles on the street level above the tracks. A monumental convention hall would attract one to three large hotels, and they in turn a theater. Then would follow an office building, and soon there would be an astringent development which would far surpass the New York Central development in Manhattan."

"Why can't this subject be deferred for a regular meeting?" some one asked.

"It can," replied Kaindl, "but the delay is likely to deny the assistance which I think we should tender. It is urgent that Chicago have a convention hall, the largest and most convenient in the country."

MEXICO EPISCOPATE DENIES IT ORDERED SLAUGHTER ON TRAIN

MEXICO CITY, April 21.—(AP)—

Archbishop Ruiz y Flores, in a statement tonight declared that if Catholic priests participated in the Guadalupe train attack the Catholic church was unaware of it and had no connection with it.

"If it is true that the assailants of the train committed the cruelties attributed to them by the government in the statement of Gen. Alvarez, chief of President Calles' staff," says Archbishop Ruiz, "they deserve the reprobation of the entire world. In no case is the church responsible for their actions, but those are responsible who have brought about this situation and have given and are giving an example of similar attacks."

The archbishop characterized Gen. Alvarez's statements as "calumnious and declared that the government was unable to prove that the church has organized any armed defense."

I. C. C. DEBATES MERITS OF NEW PHONE PROPOSAL

Illinois commerce commissioners at Springfield last night were unable to understand why the European style of telephone should have a fifty-cent-a-month advantage over the Yankee phone, which is the type now being used in Chicago. The commissioners also are considering the $3 installation charge for shifting from one type to the other which the phone company is asking.

It is said the Bell Telephone company has had numerous requests in Chicago for the European type of phone, which combines the receiver and the mouthpiece in one instrument. The phone company contends that for installing the European type it should be compensated just as it would be for installing a new phone. Some adjustment is expected within a few days.

Refuses Receivership on Krenn & Dato Co-op

Petition for a receivership for the Sheridan-Brompton apartments, $8,500,000 cooperative building at 3520 Sheridan road, was denied yesterday by Superior Judge Oscar Hebel. The suit, brought by tenant-owners charging promoters with stock juggling and demanding an accounting, was set for a final hearing April 27. Agents for the building were Krenn & Dato. The petitioners make an additional complaint that apartments were rented to Vincent (Schemer) Drucel, Hymie Weiss, Ike Bloom, Mike Fritzel and others to whom they objected as neighbors. Weiss and Drucel were killed, Weiss by assassins and Drucel by a policeman.

Nurse Found Stunned on Pier by Evanston Police

Evanston police last night were holding for observation Miss Mabel Waters, 40 years old, a graduate nurse of 1209 Grove street, in the suburb, after they found her lying stunned on the end of a pier at the foot of Hamilton street. Miss Waters denied she had been contemplating suicide. Mrs. Henry Hasel had called the police when Miss Waters acted strangely at the pier. Police found a big wave sweeping over the pier had knocked her down.

CALLES SPEEDS AVENGING WAR; SETS UP CENSOR

along the route between La Barca and Mexico City. The dead in the ill-fated train were cremated when the rebels applied kerosene and torches to the coaches. Of the escort of fifty soldiers, forty-six died at their posts. An American saved three of them. They had fought from the shelter of a Pullman until their ammunition ran out. When the rebels swarmed upon the train the American thought to put civilian clothing on the heroic soldiers. The rebels took them for passengers and their lives were spared.

The battle between the rebels and there had been windows, and began firing furiously. "Occasionally there was a lull in the firing and at such times we would think the escort was getting the better of the rebels, or that their ammunition was running out. Then the firing would begin all over again. There were seven Americans in our Pullman, and all of us thought our last hour had come."

"By and by it was noticeable that the return fire of the military escort was slackening. Three of these brave fellows had died in our car, and we could guess what had happened to the others fighting from the poorly concealed shelters in the wooden cars. The shrieks and screams which we heard from time to time told the story in a blood curdling manner."

Enter the Car.
"Finally there was little firing from the train and the rebels drew close. A few more shots, and they were on the platform, yelling their mockery to the Savior's name. With rifles and knives they swarmed into the Pullman."

A bloodthirsty brute took a fancy to a charming young woman of Mexico City, across the aisle from an American. He first robbed her and then told her to get out of the car, indicating the spot where she would wait for him. The girl went white, but faced him bravely.

"The American who had been sitting across the way, rose up protesting. The rebel brandished his rifle butt over the American's head and told him to shut up, adding with unrepeatable obscenity aspersions on countless generations of the other's forbears."

The American ripped open his vest and shirt and drew out his money belt. "Here, take this," said the Yankee, "and leave this girl alone."

There were 2,000 pesos ($1,000) in that money belt. The rebel chief's eye gleamed at the sight of more money than he had ever dreamed of. He held out his filthy hand to the American.

"A few moments later another chief came showed up at the Pullman door and bawled out to us to leave the car or be burned alive. We got out. He took me, and some others, to a little hillock a short distance away and left us under the guard of a single soldier. From there we saw them sprinkle oil over the cars and then run along them with torches in their hands."

RAYMER UPHOLDS HISTORY TEXTS; K. K.'S McANDREW

Beals Says Teachers Help R. O. T. C.

American history is well taught in the public schools, the texts are good, and a majority of the high school principals are for the R. O. T. C. statements were made off-hand yesterday.

"I believe that I am a better American than reading them," President Walter J. Raymer said, "and found no fault in the charges against it, except for its omission of some foreign patriots. I learned a new edition of the text which will include these men."

Cherry Tree Legend. "I have no fault to find with the history of the cherry tree should be taught to the children, but they should be read, not history text books."

Mr. Raymer made the statement that his investigation, if followed by approval, would give Supt. McAndrew the backing of the board of education against Mayor Thompson's attempt to oust him. Thus Supt. McAndrew is given the support of the board until the expiration of his term in January.

Says Teachers Favor R. O. T. C. Maj. F. L. Beals yesterday came forward to defend school teachers against charges of pacifism.

The vast majority of the teachers favor the R. O. T. C., he said. "The intrusion of the R. O. T. C. was resisted by the teachers at first, but when its educational value had been demonstrated they heartily favored it."

As proof, Maj. Beals quoted twenty high school principals, all coming in contact with the R. O. T. C. "The influence for good is felt in matters of discipline, civic standards, and physical training," Wilbur H. Wright, Austin High.

"We are 100 per cent for the R. O. T. C. I put a student on his feet, teach him obedience, respect for the law and for authority," William J. Johnson, Crane Tech.

The influence of the R. O. T. C. is often the turning point of boys who would otherwise be problem cases," David M. Davidson, Englewood.

MOVE SWIFTLY TO KELLY'S TRIAL IN RAYMOND DEATH

Miss MacKaye Aired After Collapse.

BY GEORGE SHAFER.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 21.—(Special.)—Events moved swiftly this afternoon toward a murder trial for Paul Kelly.

The county coroner's jury met, heard an hour and a half of testimony, and returned the quick verdict that "We find Ray Raymond came to his death from a cerebral hemorrhage caused by blows on the head administered by Paul Kelly in a fit of rage, and we further find that Paul Kelly was the aggressor."

Kelly appeared at the inquest. He refused to testify.

Shortly after the coroner's inquest verdict was returned, Kelly was taken to the courtroom of Superior Judge Charles Burnell and arraigned. Kelly's attorney, W. I. Gilbert, asked time to enter Kelly's plea, and was granted until April 25.

Kelly was removed from the Hollywood police station to a cell in the county jail. Kelly was refused.

Dr. W. J. Sullivan of Hollywood was the third witness. He appeared distressed on the stand. He denied that he or Miss MacKaye had made any attempt to hush up the facts of Raymond's death or that the actress had offered to "pay him well to keep the affair quiet."

Dr. Sullivan was called in by Miss MacKaye last Sunday morning, and Raymond died at dawn Tuesday.

After the inquest, Coroner Nance said he had not made up his mind positively whether he will take any action against Dr. Sullivan, who signed a death certificate stating that Raymond had died of natural causes.

A similar bill, bearing a whipping post penalty for bank robbers, is being considered by another conference committee. The approval of the whipping post as a means of crime prevention marked the fruition of years of endeavor by Representative Charles Oliver of Detroit, who in many previous sessions has tried to institute another measure.

The legislature, turning over the arrest late Tuesday of Senator Joseph Bahorski of Detroit on a fraudulent bond charge, today demanded the removal from office of the Van Buren county officers who invaded the senate and rushed the senator to the Paw Paw jail.

A resolution was unanimously adopted in both branches declaring the action of Robert Cavanaugh, prosecuting attorney, and Glenn Weaver, Van Buren county sheriff, was "an insult to every member of the legislature."

Later a committee waited upon the governor and declared the arrest of Senator Bahorski was nothing but a petty political plot. Both the Van Buren officers are Democrats, while Senator Bahorski is a Republican.

A resolution proposing to take Michigan out of the list of states advocating a federal constitutional convention was being discussed. Wardell, opposing the resolution, declared Holmgren needed such an issue "so he could tell the heads of the dry organization he was working hard and could collect more money from the people of the state."

MICHIGAN O. K.'S WHIPPING POST FOR BURGLARS

Bank Robbers May Get the Same.

Lansing, Mich., April 21.—(Special.)—The Michigan legislature today approved flagging for armed burglars. A conference report, providing that six lashes may be applied to the "bare back, well laid on" at periods during the imprisonment of those convicted of burglary while armed was adopted by both house and senate.

The measure specified that the lash must be a porous pork hide strap, two and one-half feet long, two inches wide and one-sixteenth of an inch thick. The bill now goes to the governor for signature or rejection.

ITALY PUTS BOSS AND WORKER IN GRIP OF STATE

Fascist Charter of Labor Takes Effect.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, April 22. (I. A. M.)—In the session of the grand council of the Fascist party, which ended early this morning, Fascism's new labor charter was promulgated. Present at the session, in addition to the customary members of the council, were the heads of the corporations and syndicates affected directly by the new charter.

The charter, in thirty articles, lays down the duties of workers and employers toward each other and the duties of both toward the state. Many of its provisions—such as compulsory vacations on full pay, workers' insurance and accident insurance already have been completely developed in the United States. The new code provides for a six day week and extra pay for night work. On other points, however, the charter is unique.

State Is Supreme.
The Fascist principles of iron and conscious discipline for all within the state, and the doctrine that the state is the supreme end of the individual and collective lives of the population, are enunciated in the document.

Premier Mussolini, in a speech punctuated with vigorous applause, outlined the main features of the charter and told the members of the council what the government hoped would be achieved.

Under the charter the state is made the guardian of labor and property. Capital and labor are to be organized into syndicates and will carry on their dealings with each other through collective contracts. Corporations, which will be the agents of the state, will control the activities of both capital and labor. Special labor courts will settle disputes between them which cannot be solved in any other way. The charter assures juridical equality for both workers and employers.

Non-Fascists Without Power.
While non-Fascist workers and employers will be permitted to function under the Fascist regime, they will have no powers and they will have to comply with the terms of the Fascist

PASTOR REPORTS SWINDLER TOOK MONEY FROM HIM

The Rev. Joseph Croft Dent, pastor of the Judson Baptist church, Austin avenue and Berkshire street, reported yesterday that a confidence man several days ago had swindled him out of $15, and that he had received a telegram from the same man who in the same way had defrauded some of the best known preachers of the city, including Dr. John Timothy Stone, the Rev. W. E. Barton, Dr. J. F. Seibert, the Rev. Perry J. Rice and others.

"I admit I was duped," said the Rev. Mr. Dent, "and I would like to warn others and bring about the arrest of the scamp who has imposed on ministers by his hypocrisy."

Hunt Husband Missing with $20,000 in Cash
The police were asked yesterday to search for Joseph Lenahan, 38 years old, 625 North Hermitage avenue. His wife reported that he left home early in February for Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and that he had $20,000 cash with him. Lenahan was a dealer in real estate, according to the police, but the police said he had been involved in bootlegging, also. He owned a small restaurant on Broadway, near Buena avenue.

PORTAL EMPLOYEE KILLS SELF.
Believing himself to be under suspicion of having stolen from the mails, Richard C. 45, colored, of 471 East 31st street, a clerk in the postoffice, shot and killed himself yesterday.

U. S. Tars Kill 5 Rebels in Nicaragua, Admiral Reports
Washington, D. C., April 21.—[U. P.]—Two attacks on American naval forces in Nicaragua yesterday, by "revolutionists or bandits" were reported to the navy department today by Admiral Julian L. Latimer. At Chigalapa American forces returned the fire and two of the attacking force were killed and three wounded. At Potosi fifty mounted revolutionists attacked a force of twenty-four men. The American troops returned their fire, killing three.

Hunt Bodies of 3 Drowned When Car Ran Off Bridge
Piano, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Piano creek was being dragged today for the bodies of Roy Faxon, 55, a traveling salesman, and two men believed to have been drowned with him when his auto toppled off a bridge last night.

French Chief Will Visit George V. Next Month.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, April 21.—An important diplomatic conference will be held in London during the state visit of President Gaston Doumergue of France to King George on May 15, which may settle the alignment of Europe for some time to come. Foreign Minister Aristide Briand will accompany the French president, and will discuss personally with Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain, a number of questions, the way for which has been prepared by an exchange of views between the two foreign offices. The chief of these will be the Balkan situation as affected by the Italo-Serb rivalries.

It is no secret that for some time Great Britain has been backing Italy and France, and has been backing Serbia, but the situation now has become so dangerous that efforts have been made to get together, the idea being that Great Britain may be able to bring Italy into line while France influences Serbia for peace.

Duce May Take a Hand.
It is possible that Premier Mussolini may take a hand through his ambassador here and try to extract some compensation for giving way to the Serbs on some points. In this connection the interesting suggestion has been made that Premier Mussolini is deliberately inflaming Serbia, with the idea of reaching a conciliation here later by a show of yielding in order to secure Serbia's assistance, or at least neutrality, if Italy decides to attack Turkey with the idea of securing territory for Italian expansion.

The policy in China will also be discussed by the two foreign ministers and an effort will be made to arrive at a common policy for the far east.

"I won three silver cups at the Fauquier and Loudoun Counties' Garden Club on my flowers."

Here is a typical instance of success with Vigoro. Garden lovers everywhere have found that this plantfood gives unusually successful results. Vigoro itself is unusual!

Odorless, clean, applied by hand! Vigoro will give you real results

There is nothing unpleasant about Vigoro! So clean you can scatter it by hand or sift from your kitchen colander! No wonder experienced growers prefer it!

Vigoro, unlike any plantfood you have ever known, is the result of years of experiment by Swift & Company experts. It provides a balanced ration throughout the season. Gives a quick, vigorous start—sturdy, better colored flowers. Produces better lawns, vegetables, shrubbery and trees, too.

KING, PRESIDENT WILL TRY TO END WOES OF EUROPE

French Chief Will Visit George V. Next Month.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 21.—An important diplomatic conference will be held in London during the state visit of President Gaston Doumergue of France to King George on May 15, which may settle the alignment of Europe for some time to come. Foreign Minister Aristide Briand will accompany the French president, and will discuss personally with Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain, a number of questions, the way for which has been prepared by an exchange of views between the two foreign offices. The chief of these will be the Balkan situation as affected by the Italo-Serb rivalries.

It is no secret that for some time Great Britain has been backing Italy and France, and has been backing Serbia, but the situation now has become so dangerous that efforts have been made to get together, the idea being that Great Britain may be able to bring Italy into line while France influences Serbia for peace.

Duce May Take a Hand.
It is possible that Premier Mussolini may take a hand through his ambassador here and try to extract some compensation for giving way to the Serbs on some points. In this connection the interesting suggestion has been made that Premier Mussolini is deliberately inflaming Serbia, with the idea of reaching a conciliation here later by a show of yielding in order to secure Serbia's assistance, or at least neutrality, if Italy decides to attack Turkey with the idea of securing territory for Italian expansion.

The policy in China will also be discussed by the two foreign ministers and an effort will be made to arrive at a common policy for the far east.

M'COOK'S POLICE CHIEF ARRESTED BY DRY SLEUTHS

Joseph Zahora, 37 years old, chief of police of McCook, a southwest suburb, was arrested yesterday by prohibition agents, who said they found him delivering two barrels of real beer to the American roadhouse at Lyons.

Agents Frank L. White and Elliot Ness said they saw Zahora drive up to the roadhouse, which he claims is his father's and which he gave as a home address, with the two barrels of beer loaded on a truck.

In a statement made to dry officials Zahora is said to have named a prominent brewery now making beer under government as his source of supply. Action will be taken to revoke the permit of the brewery, government officials said. Bonds of $1,000 were fixed by United States Commissioner Henry C. Bettler and hearing of the case was set for April 23.

A large moonshine distillery in Chicago Heights was raided by dry agents under Gus Simons, chief of personnel, yesterday. Sam Vanicola, 107 East 23d street, Chicago Heights, was arrested, and agents confiscated two large stills, 13,000 gallons of mash, and a large quantity of alcohol in a barn in the rear of 232 East 23d street, Chicago Heights.

FORMER UTILITY CHIEF PAROLED FROM ASYLUM

Alphous J. Goddard, at one time president of the Freeport Light and Power company of Freeport, Ill., and considered one of the wealthiest men in that part of the state, was before Judge John J. Sullivan in the Criminal court yesterday seeking freedom from the Waterbury hospital for the insane on a habeas corpus writ. He also asked that he be restored to the control of his property.

Arrayed against him was his daughter, Evelyn Goddard.

Judge Sullivan allowed Goddard his temporary release on parole to W. J. Smith, 6408 Woodlawn avenue, a brother-in-law, and continued final hearing to July 1.

Goddard complained that he had given on his wife power of attorney some years back and that after he was sent to the Waterbury asylum last August he was cut off with an allowance of $1 a week, which was later reduced to 25 cents a week.

Miss Goddard contended that her father, due to his mental condition, had dissipated his fortune since the sale of his utility holdings to the Insull interests in 1912.

ILLINOIS HOUSE PASSES 7 BILLS, THEN LAYS OFF

Gallas Wants $8,000,000
State Building Here.

BY JOHN HERRICK.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Springfield, Ill., April 21.—[Special.]—The Illinois house, before adjourning until next Tuesday, today made its record for this session by passing seven bills.

Most important, especially to downtown, was the Turner born borer bill, which provides measures for fighting the invasion of the pest and carries with it the pledge of the state to reimburse the farmer for all he must spend above one dollar an acre in combating the borer.

Two minor appropriation bills, one for the salary of the clerk of the Appellate Court in Cook county from $2,000 to $2,500 and remove the requirement that such clerks shall be attorneys; by Teel, to amend the drainage act; by Lyons, to increase the pay of assessors from $5 to $7 a day; by Teel, to permit judges of the Court of Claims to obtain the salary increase voted them by the last assembly.

A bill sponsored by Representative Thomas Curran, which would give child laborers the right to practice minor orthopedic surgery and would increase the educational requirements for a chiropractor's license, failed to gain a constitutional majority and was saved by Curran's motion to postpone consideration.

Wants State Building Here.
An $8,000,000 office building in Chicago, to house the thirty state bureau and departments now renting office space, is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Walter F. Gallas of Chicago.

Among the new bills in the senate, the marriage bill sponsored by Judge Joseph W. Sabath of Chicago, introduced by Senator Thomas J. Courtney would require an application for a marriage license to be made five days before the issue of the license. Objections may be filed during the interval.

A bill introduced in the house by Representative Michael L. Igo of Chicago seeks to increase the tax levy in the north park district from $6 to $8 cents. Mr. Igo said the additional money was necessary to maintain the north park's constantly increasing revenue, chiefly Grant park and the station.

RAILMAN KILLS SELF.
Last night, 52, of 1004 East 43rd street, killed himself by jumping from the C. & N. W. railroad, committed suicide yesterday morning shooting himself in the head. His wife, Catherine, told the police he was depressed.

A Bank Should Be a "Prosperity Institute"

People learn the fundamentals of success largely through banking relations. When a depositor meets a serious financial problem he consults his banker about it.

Our Officers willingly give much time to discussing with depositors their financial plans which mean so much to them. Time limitations make it impossible to give to every depositor, personally, the word of friendly counsel needed.

Our new Plan gives to an unlimited number of depositors the needed word of helpful advice or information. We have thus become a "Prosperity Institute."

We have had prepared a series of sixteen dynamics, "Prosperity Handbooks," of convenient pocket size. Number 1, "How to Become a Financial Success," is a pocket guide for every one with aspirations. It shows just how to achieve that purpose. Each of the others is equally informative and helpful in its particular phase of personal or home finance.

A complete list of these handbooks can be had on request at Information Counter in the Building lobby. Consult the list, and select any which will answer your home or personal financial problems. Accompany mail requests with return postage only, as the Handbooks are free of charge.

As an inducement to open an account here, we offer the entire series to new patrons, who indicate their desire to receive it when opening their accounts.

MORATORIUM TO BANKS GRANTED BY TOKIO CABINET

Japan Acts to End Finance Crisis.

BY RODERICK MATHESON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TOKIO, April 21.—Heavy runs on the Yasuda bank yesterday, with the public frantic and the authorities thoroughly alarmed, caused the cabinet to go into an extraordinary night session to consider the financial crisis.

It was decided to call a special diet session early in May to consider means to save the situation, and at the same time the cabinet approved a moratorium of three weeks for the Japanese banks, beginning Monday.

All banks and trust companies in Japan were closed today and will not reopen until Monday. When they reopen withdrawals will be limited to 500 yen ($250) to a depositor per day.

Will Guarantee Losses.

The government is prepared to guarantee losses incurred by the Bank of Japan through advances to banks to the extent of 500,000,000 yen ($250,000,000). The Bank of Japan advanced 300,000,000 yen ($150,000,000) to other banks yesterday.

The cabinet issued a statement at midnight that the government is prepared to take every step possible to provide relief and advise the public to keep calm. Authorities have been ordered to suppress scare mongers.

Improvement in England.

LONDON, April 21.—While financiers here were watching with great interest the financial crisis in Japan, London in general was hailing the return of prosperity today as a result of the one-half per cent reduction in the bank rate—from 5 to 4½ per cent. The stock exchange here was the scene of much enthusiasm just before noon, when it was announced that the discount rate, which had been 5 per cent since December, 1925, had been lowered.

Financiers predict that the cheaper rate will be followed by a great enhancement in security values, as well as by a much needed trade stimulus.

GILLIOM SEEKS EARLY ACTION IN SHUMAKER CASE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 21.—[Special.]—A plea for advancement and early consideration of the contempt proceedings against Edward S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, and two of the league attorneys was filed with the Indiana Supreme court by Arthur Gilliom, attorney general.

The case was started before the court in March, 1926, and was based on derogatory statements made in the annual report of Shumaker to the trustees of his league regarding the state Supreme court, its decisions, and the office of the attorney general.

In his motion today to advance the case Gilliom pointed out that all issues involved had been joined, that the case is ready for consideration by the court, is one of general public concern, and is summary in nature.

The motion was signed also by Will H. Thompson and Solon J. Carter, Indianapolis attorneys, who have been associated with Gilliom in the case.

Bomb Routs Families and Tears Hole in Sidewalk

Six families were shaken up early this morning when a black powder bomb, believed to have been hurled from an automobile, landed on the sidewalk in front of a three story building at 1543 West 19th place.

The charge of powder tore a hole in the sidewalk and broke windows in the building and several buildings nearby. Frank Pickney, said to be owner of the building, denied any trouble which might lead to the bombing. Police are working on the theory the bomb was intended for some one else.

Arrests Two of CON GAMES.

Normal Hughes, 44, of 204 North LaSalle avenue and J. Parsons, 51, of the Grant hotel were arrested yesterday charged with operating a confidence game. Mrs. Charles T. Will Jr., who gave the business address of 236 South Michigan boulevard, signed the complaint.

This Salesman's "Key to larger sales" ... his firm's advertising

By
W. S. CHAPMAN
The Mennen Company

Selling a nationally advertised line is no longer a job but a profession. I make our advertising increase my sales by showing the dealer how it helps his sales.

Mennen advertising, because it covers all of our products and is extensively carried out, gives me this advantage—I can convince any dealer that his customers know about and are friendly to my line.

National advertising is simply local advertising conducted on a national scale.

When I show our advertisements to dealers I point out how in selling Mennen Shaving Cream they can also sell Mennen Talcum for Men and Skin Balm. And how a sale for Mennen Baby Talcum makes an opportunity to sell Mennen Baby Ointment—and Skin Balm, too, for the mother.

I find that a merchant helps the salesman who helps him. Therefore it pays to make just as many helpful suggestions as possible—which is constructive selling.

The American Magazine is used regularly by my company.

I find The American Magazine Vest Pocket Sales-Maker a great help in convincing merchants that national advertising is really local advertising for them. With this I am able to show how substantial citizens in any community can be attracted to the dealer's store by a display of standard nationally advertised goods such as Mennen's.

W. S. Chapman

Some facts for dealers about your firm's advertising

NATURALLY, no two salesmen sell their firm's advertising in the same way. But here are some new facts and figures that you may be able to use when calling on your trade.

For instance, when you call on a dealer ask him how goods are bought in his home—who picked out his phonograph, his automobile or any one of fifty other things.

He'll probably say he did. But if he thinks it over, he'll have to admit that mother, son, and daughter had a great deal to say about the matter. In fact, in practically every case, two or more members of the family influence every purchase.

Now the point is, most things are bought that way—from ginger ale to motor cars. Every member of the great American family has a way of making his wants known.

What retailers found

We asked leading retailers in 14 different cities to get us actual, down-to-the-ground figures on "buying habits."

They wrote 10,000 families who are their customers—inquiring about nearly everything bought in or for the home. The net of the answers was this: 66 per cent of all home purchases are influenced by two or more members of the family.

Tell them this

That means, of course, that any advertiser who is going to do a real job for a dealer must reach all members of the families who trade with him.

And that's exactly what your firm's advertising does—in The American Magazine.

Ask your firm for the facts and figures which prove this. Your company has them or can get them for you. They show the results of investigations into "reading habits" made by manufacturers in many lines—from toilet goods to vacuum cleaners—by colleges and universities—by advertising agencies and publishers.

You'll find that invariably The American Magazine stands out as the magazine which carries the story of your product to all members of the family who influence its sale.

Make these facts work

We pass these facts on to you because they will help you to demonstrate to dealers the local value of your firm's advertising in The American Magazine. They'll get a new conception of how your advertising is creating sales for them.

Your firm's advertisements in The American Magazine are, as W. S. Chapman says, one of your greatest selling helps. Make them work for you!

Send now for the new edition of the Vest Pocket Sales-Maker. It gives some interesting facts and figures on the value of national magazine advertising—besides population and circulation figures for all towns of 1,000 and over and for all counties. Please give your firm's name. Address The Crowell Publishing Company, 250 Park Avenue, New York.

The Vest Pocket Sales-Maker will help you to dramatize these points about your firm's advertising—

1. The American Magazine's circulation of 2,200,000 insures strong local coverage in every dealer's town.
2. How every issue of The American Magazine is alive for 30 days in 2,200,000 homes.
3. And why The American Magazine is read by all members of the family who influence sales—fathers, mothers and young people.
4. And how The American Magazine influences these 2,200,000 families to do more, have more, want more—and therefore buy more.

RUBBER SAVING BY TIRE BUILDERS CUTS DOWN COST

60,000 Tons Saved in 1926 Season.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

American automobile owners and tire manufacturers saved a total of 60,000 tons of rubber last year through conservation methods urged upon them by government agencies, the American Automobile Association and other national interests. Like savings can be accomplished in other operating directions, it is pointed out, by closer organization and education of the individual driver.

In 1926, according to a detailed report given the A. A. A. and its affiliated motor clubs by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and issued yesterday, the consumption of raw rubber in the United States amounted to 388,000 tons. In 1926 automobile registration increased 10 per cent. If rubber consumption had continued at the 1925 rate, 426,000 tons would have been required. Instead the actual consumption last year was 266,000 tons of rubber. In addition, Secretary Hoover points out in his letter of appreciation for the help of the A. A. A. and its affiliated clubs, manufacturers, stocks of castings and inner tubes increased by 12,500 tons.

This remarkable conservation has resulted in the reduction of rubber prices from $1 a pound in 1925 to 48.65 cents in 1926, the secretary adds, and in the practical elimination of the 55 per cent increase in tire prices caused by the rubber boom.

Lott Reaches Finals of Mason-Dixon Net Singles

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 21.—(AP)—George Lott of Chicago and John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., today won their way into the final round of the Mason and Dixon tennis championship. Lott defeated Emmet Parr, a fellow townsman, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4, in the semi-finals, while Van Ryn, ranking member of the Princeton tennis squad, put out Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 6-3, 6-2.

Shy Song Birds Fly Northward After Sunset

BY BOB BECKER.

Winning their way northward by moonlight and under ideal wind conditions, thousands of song birds that migrate only after sunset were on "the flyways" to their summer nesting grounds Sunday and Monday nights of this week. Our knowledge of the nocturnal migration of birds is based on several sources, including observations through telescopes, data from lighthouses, the finding of certain species the day following a night flight, and on hearing the call notes of birds passing overhead in the darkness.

Monday night we did our turn as "patrol" on the high bluff overlooking Lake Michigan at the village of Lake Bluff in order to hear the call notes of passing birds. This "guard duty" was successful. Both last Sunday and Monday nights were ideal for the song birds of more or less timid or sedentary habits (the habitual night flyers) to be in the air. A gentle breeze from the southeast helped them along and a big moon was on the job to aid the birds in finding their way. Before we ended our vigil on the bluff we heard a flock of small birds (apparently warblers) talking back and forth as they pushed along in the moonlight.

PURPLE CRUSHES GREEN, 32 TO 0, IN GRID WAR AT N. U.

Hanley Ends Spring Drill with Game.

Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern closed his spring football practice yesterday with a regular game between two picked eleven, and at the end of four twelve minute periods the Purple triumphed off the gridiron on the long end of a 32 to 0 score over the green team.

The Purple eleven, composed of the most promising players on the squad, displayed much better football than it did in the game two weeks ago. The interference was better and the backs had more drive and power in their ground gaining efforts. There also was better coordination between line and backfield.

The winning eleven used a straight attack during most of the game, although some attempts were made to execute forward passes. In this direct offense plays were launched behind unbalanced lines and the ball carriers generally were sent off the strong side. The lateral and backward passes were not attempted.

Haas, Holmer, Kent, Levison, and Calderwood displayed a lot of promise in the backfield and Rosie played a much improved game at center. The aggressiveness of the forwards was shown by the blocking of two punts which resulted in touchdowns.

NIESENS TO OPEN SEASON SUNDAY WITH PLAINES

The Niesens Baseball club of Hammond with Buck Weaver, the former White Sox star, at third base, will open its season at Hammond Sunday playing the Belle Plaine A. C. Numerous frills have been added to the opening program. The Elks club, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and the Hammond chamber of commerce all plan to turn out in force. There will be an automobile parade and a band to aid in the pre-game merry making. Several of Weaver's friends from the south side of Chicago also are planning to make the trip to Hammond and stage a little celebration of their own in honor of Weaver.

Boxing Notes

PAUL WANGLEY, the St. Paul featherweight, and Babe Ruth of Louisville will clash in the feature bout of the boxing show at Lincoln Turner hall, 1019 Diversey parkway, tonight. They will box eight rounds to a decision. Joe Miller and Nick Taft, middleweights, will be the principals in the six round semi-windup. The other contests bring together Henry Cullen and Pete Savelli, Mathew Schulz and Jerry Dolan, Ralph Garbett and George Mavis and Joe Shelmah and Cozy Dolan.

Joe Sanger of Milwaukee and Henry Leard of South Chicago, principals in the windup of the White City show on Monday night, are rounding into form. Both fighters have several matches in view, but none will be closed until after Monday night's bout.

Abe Atlas Goldstein, the former world's bantamweight champion, who meets Bud Taylor of Terry State, Ind., in one of the ten rounds of Promoters James Mullin's show at the Coliseum on May 3, will arrive in Chicago Sunday to receive training. Taylor is expected back from the coast tomorrow, while Tony Cassano of New York, who clashes with Ray Ketchell of the stockyards in another ten round affair, will be here on Monday.

RAIN HALTS PREP NINES AGAIN; 7 GAMES ON TODAY

Week Almost a Total Loss to Teams.

Cold weather and wet grounds yesterday caused the postponement of the three games scheduled in the City High School league. Tilden was ordered to play Lindholm, Tuley was to meet McKinley, and Crane and Marshall were to have played, but coaches of the teams decided to stage these contests later in the season.

Weather permitting, seven games will be staged this afternoon, with most of the teams appearing in their first league encounters. The schedule: Austin-Harrison at Quigley field; Lake View-Schurz at Logan square; Walter-Booseville at Wells park; Bowen at Calumet; Morgan Park at Penger; Hyde Park-Phillips at White City; Medill at Englewood.

Tuley, which has had two postponements thus far, has arranged to play off with Austin at Cermak Mills stadium May 2 at 10:30 a. m.

Penger and Blue Island braved the elements and staged a seven inning battle at 11th and Halsted streets. The former won, 8 to 3, bunching their hits with errors and walks. Each team made four hits. Score: Penger.....111 000 0-3 4 2 Blue Island.....111 301 -8 4 1 Batteries—Haas, Fisher and Wright, Goetter, Raachwal and Waljeki.

LAKE FOREST CARDS MEET.

Lake Forest college will open its 1927 track season in a dual meet with Northwestern at Milwaukee tomorrow. Coach Elmer Karahav of the North shore school plans to take a squad of nineteen to the meet.

Trains that make Milwaukee a next door neighbor.

Do you remember a few years back when a trip to Milwaukee was looked upon as "traveling"? How different today! The two great cities have been drawn together. The change was hastened when North Shore Line trains first operated through the Chicago Loop.

Today you need scarcely even consult a time table. Every hour on the hour a fast North Shore Line train leaves Adams and Wabash. From the heart of Chicago to the heart of Milwaukee.

It's a service that's designed to fit your needs and your convenience. Board your train at any of 11 stations on the "L" system. Clean, comfortable, all-steel train—courteous, attentive employees. No wonder seasoned travelers prefer the North Shore Line!

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Babies Need Clothes.

"There is a woman near our house who has three small children, two girls, 4 and 1, and a boy 5 years old. She is expecting another any day and has nothing for it. If your readers would have any clothing for the children or for the new baby and a baby buggy it would be such a help to her."

"Mrs. G."

"I would greatly appreciate a complete outfit. I am a blind boy Scout and I would surely enjoy having one."

This little fellow is missing a great deal that other boys of his age enjoy. If we could supply him with a complete outfit, it might make up a bit for the cruel misfortune he is suffering.

Cleanse with Castile, in cool or lukewarm water. Why Castile? Because it's the pure olive oil soap, and nature has nothing in her repertoire to compare with olive oil for bland cleansing virtue!

And fortunately there is now a Castile that will give you a generous lather even in cold water—Doña* Castile! A delicious, modern beauty soap, exquisitely molded for your feminine hand, "hard-milled" (to make it last) and sealed in a charming wrapper, always lovely-fresh when you buy it.

A Castile beauty soap! and the most exquisite of all beauty soaps today. But not too expensive! Although Doña is the costliest to make of all pure unscented toilet soaps, it sells for ten cents. Because so many millions of women use it!

Girl Who Is Good Listener Seldom Lacks Popularity

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Helen, 23, asks where she can go in order to improve the art of conversation. She would like to be a more convincing speaker. She outlines for me a list of the books she intends to read when she has the time. It's a formidable looking list, all right! Helen is beautiful on every night that sees her former school friends enjoying the pleasures of wholesome companionship with the opposite sex. She is lonely. She thinks if she becomes a great conversationalist she might be more interesting to men—more popular, as it were.

Our private opinion of Helen's immediate need is attendance at a school for listeners, not for conversationalists. If we were advising of our flesh and blood what not to do, the first thing would be not to try to be a convincing speaker—that is, if we knew "twas popularity she wanted. If she intended to go in for public speaking and had determined that men were unnecessary in her particular scheme of life, we'd think she was peculiar. But we'd let her talk her head off.

Not, however, if she wanted to make a hit with men. Why?

Thackeray said: "What we [men] want, for the most part, is a humble, stammering, smiling, child-loving, tea-making being who laughs at our jokes, however old they may be, coaxes and wheedles us in our humors, and fondly lies to us through life."

Since Thackeray's day women have gone a long way from the humble tea-making being, but unfortunately for their conversational ambitions, men haven't changed much in their taste. The flattering, smiling listener can still have twenty engagements to one of the girl with the desire to make her self heard.

No, Helen, what you want is a beau. It is right and normal that a number of years learning something any popular girl of your acquaintance could tell you right this minute. The best way to learn to be popular is to study the most popular girl you know. You may not be able to like her any more than you are able to look like her. But you will learn this much: she is not going around talking Nietzsche, Schopenhauer, Turgeniev, or any highbrow stuff with that young bond salesman who is bringing her violets.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Best to Be Free.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 and have been asked to keep steady company with the fellow whom I like and admire, but am wondering if I am not too young to tie myself down to one fellow."

"Wonderful."

While he may be your preference, you want to be free to do as you wish for some time to come.

Both Are Obstinate.

"Dear Miss Blake: My friend and I had a quarrel through jealousy. He is so obstinate that he hasn't called me up since. What shall I do?"

"Anxious."

That old monster, Jealousy, will get in its dirty work, but you can prevent it by using your reasoning power. Anxious. Some one must be generous and give in, dear. Why not you?

"Why, Buddy," said I, "do you really cry at Sunday school?"

"Well, mother," replied Buddy, shamefacedly, "I don't 'truly cry'—but I fust!"

"Twins, a boy and a girl, had come to Marjorie's house, but wishing to hear what the little miss would say, I asked if their baby was a boy or a girl."

"Why, didn't you know," answered Marjorie, "that we got all the kinds of babies there?"

A Terrible Moment.

When I was 14 I was very tall for my age. I seemed all legs and arms. I wore horn rimmed glasses and was pretty awkward.

Graduation day came around, with all its bustle and flurry. Speeches were practiced and said were rehearsed. Finally the great moment did come and I was on the stage all ready to make my speech that I had practiced for days and days. And, by the way, I also had a slight sore throat.

With a lot of arm waving and stuttering I finally got started, gaining confidence as I went along. I shouted louder and louder, when, right in the midst of my speech with arms in mid-air, I started to cough. After coughing for about a half minute—I had practiced for days and days. And, by the way, I also had a slight sore throat.

Wipe the mold, after dipping it for a second in warm water, if necessary, and fill with the chilled fruit and serve.

Now we are ready to pack this in the border mold, which should be well rinsed with cold water and wiped dry on the outside. Pack the fruit into the mold, put a piece of buttered paper over it, fasten on the cover closely and pack for two hours in broken ice and salt.

Now prepare some fruit, dust with sugar and put it to chill for filling the border. Strawberries alone or strawberries with pieces of orange pulp, freed from membrane, may be used. The fruit may be glazed instead of dusted with sugar.

A Frozen Border Mold.

If we want to use nothing but cooked rice, carefully and effectively, the border mold is worth possessing. If we want to pack an ice in a border mold we must buy one with a cover, a tight cover, and it can then be used as well for the borders not requiring the cover. It is worth knowing just how many cups your mold will hold, or you cannot plan your cooking exactly.

Chilled fruits, especially in strawberry, served in a border mold of some kind of ice, may be like a real bouquet. When raspberries come a border mold of plain vanilla ice cream filled with the plain sugared fruit, and topped with whipped cream, or with the whipped cream served separately, is handsome and gratifying, all being as it should be. Or the raspberries may be in a sirup.

To make an ice for a border mold in which will hold two cups, cook one cup of sugar in two cups of water for five minutes, or it is better to use a thermometer and cook it to 230 degrees.

While this sirup is hot grate into it the rinds of one orange and one lemon. When it has become cold strain it, add the juice of the orange and lemon, with more orange juice if you like it, or some strawberry juice—enough to color. Strain again and freeze like any ice. In starting to freeze anything of this sort remember that it is always best to turn the crank of the freezer slowly at first, and then more rapidly.

Now we are ready to pack this in the border mold, which should be well rinsed with cold water and wiped dry on the outside. Pack the fruit into the mold, put a piece of buttered paper over it, fasten on the cover closely and pack for two hours in broken ice and salt.

Now prepare some fruit, dust with sugar and put it to chill for filling the border. Strawberries alone or strawberries with pieces of orange pulp, freed from membrane, may be used. The fruit may be glazed instead of dusted with sugar.

Wipe the mold, after dipping it for a second in warm water, if necessary, and fill with the chilled fruit and serve.

Tribune Airplane's Flight Over Flooded Districts Produces Graphic Evidence of Extent of Devastation

[Copyright: Tribune Photo.]

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE AND NOT A PLACE TO LAND IS PROSPECT THAT CONFRONTS AVIATORS. This picture, made by a Tribune photographer who flew from St. Louis to Cape Girardeau in the airplane, a wing of which appears at the right, shows how the waters of the Mississippi have covered the country as far as can be seen.

WHICH IS THE RIVER, AND WHICH IS THE LAND? IS A QUESTION NOT EASY TO ANSWER. In the near foreground what appears to be the roof of a farmhouse gives the only clew as to which portion of the territory shown is usually covered by water and which is ordinarily land suitable for cultivation.

ALL EXCEPT 100 OF 2,000 RESIDENTS OF NEW MADRID, MO., FLEE BEFORE RISING WATERS. Airplane view of the flooded streets of town which has been virtually abandoned by its population after a gallant fight against the floods. The depth of the water in the streets now varies from five to eighteen feet.

BLOWING GAP IN GOVERNMENT LEVEE AT NEW MADRID FAILS TO SAVE SECONDARY DIKE. The picture shows the hole blown in the levee through which the water is pouring from the inundated area, at the right, into the Mississippi river, at the extreme left. In spite of the expedient the St. John's levee also gave way.

CAMP OF THE 130TH INFANTRY AT CAIRO, WHERE REFUGEES ARE BEING FED AND CLOTHED. Cairo has become the gathering point for refugees from the towns along the Mississippi that have already been flooded. The Red Cross and the Cairo company of the Illinois National Guard are in charge of the relief work there.

WORKING ON THE LEVEE IN AN EFFORT TO SAVE CAIRO, ILL., FROM BEING FLOODED BY MISSISSIPPI. National Guardsmen of the Cairo company of the 130th infantry supervising the work along the dikes. The situation at Cairo became more hopeful yesterday with the recession of the inflow from the Ohio river.
